

The broken branch 🤔😊

by Noah

Last summer I was in an adventure camp.

There were two boys who showed off.

They made many challenges.

One night we went on a torch hike.

We stopped because the guide forgot something.

A watercolor-style illustration of a massive, gnarled tree trunk in shades of dark green and black. The tree's bark is heavily textured with deep grooves and several prominent knots. In the background, a dark blue night sky is dotted with small white stars. A large, pale yellow full moon is visible behind the tree. At the base of the tree, several small black silhouettes of people are shown. Some are standing near tents, while others appear to be engaged in camp activities. The overall scene conveys a sense of a quiet night in a forest camp.

We waited under a big tree.

The boys made a challenge,

the first one to reach the top of the tree would be the winner.

An illustration showing two hands, one on the left and one on the right, holding a small, vertical wooden branch. The hands are positioned between two much larger, horizontal tree branches that are cracking and splintering under the weight of the small branch. The background is a dark, starry night sky. The text is written in white, bold, sans-serif font, slanted upwards from left to right.

In the middle of the big tree,
one boy hung on a small branch.

“Oh no!”
I said.

The branch broke and the boy fell down.

He screamed loudly.

We told him
the story.

The guide
came to us.

He phoned another guide and they drove him to the hospital. He had broken his leg.